

service customer service
 AutoLoop has introduced ShopMonitor, a new workflow optimization tool designed to track vehicles from scheduling to reception, inspection, parts and labor quoting, and checkout. The solution identifies lost time and increases overall dealer productivity by offering complete transparency into their service process, according to the company.

autoloop.com

GPS for service retention

Spireon has launched Kahu, a new connected car solution designed to provide streamlined lot management while delivering a new F&I profit center by offering consumers a GPS-based tracking and stolen vehicle recovery service, providing data dealers can use to grow service retention by providing proactive maintenance reminders.

spireon.com/kahu

3
 SERVICE DEPARTMENT
 PAIN POINTS
 SOLVED

service with a style

Check out four new products designed to grow your fixed ops revenue and retain more service customers.

HELION
 AUTOMOTIVE TECHNOLOGIES

fixed ops pain relief

Helion Automotive Technologies has released a free ebook for auto dealers whose network infrastructures are costing service dollars. "Three Service Department Pain Points, Solved!" tackles the issue of new technologies and tools that require massive amounts of bandwidth, explains how to prepare for the future, and includes insights from industry experts.

heliontechnologies.com

tow me to the dealer

Vehicle Administrative Services (VAS) has released "Picking the Right Roadside Provider for Your Business." The free ebook is a five-part guide to selecting a roadside assistance and towing services provider for your dealership, including a primer on service standards and a breakdown of how roadside assistance impacts fixed ops.

vasblog.vehicleadminsolutions.com/ebook